The Road to Greater Markets

THE rise of every well-established breed of livestock has been accomplished primarily by the degree of willingness of its breeders to do their best to put it in a position to command new markets. That is how breeders help to increase the popularity of Polled Shorthorns when they join the Polled Shorthorn Society. Each membership fee, combined with many others, does what one breeder could not hope to do with the membership price alone. Here is what a membership gives YOU:

1. The fee itself is put immediately to work creating new markets for Polled Shorthorns—
2. Your name goes on the list of breeders sent to all prospective buyers as a source of supply—
3. You have a vote in the election of delegates and directors who shape the policies of your organization—
4. You immediately receive a 50 per cent saving on all registration and transfer fees.

A life membership costs only $10 plus an annual due of $1. If you have not yet sent us your check for membership, do so today. Address POLLED SHORTHORN SOCIETY, 7 Dexter Park Avenue, Chicago 9, Illinois.

GLEN KNOLLS MONARCH

His show record of reserve champion at the Illinois and Ohio State Fairs and grand champion at the Indiana State Fair backs our judgment that this bull is one of the top Polled Shorthorn bulls to be sold this year. The only female we have sold from his dam was grand champion at the 1942 Ohio State Sale—is now a valuable member of the A. Mackay Smith herd.

ROYAL LEADER—A grandson of the International grand champion Polled Short-horn Bull in 1940. Here is a bull of great substance and backed by top ancestry. His dam was one of the top selling entries in the 1942 International Congress sale.

The Ideal Beef Type

As taxes increase and living costs stay high, the greatest returns per cattle unit will come from the quick fattening, good milking, earlier maturing hornless Shorthorn. The degree to which the production of beef has risen in efficiency makes the utility advantages of the Polled Shorthorn especially desirable to the American producer of prime beef. Polled Shorthorns are pound makers with abundant natural flesh, well-balanced, with wide, short bodies, straight legs, strong backs and good heads. They have the ideal easy feeding disposition of the Shorthorn, and because of their natural hornlessness, are able to make the most efficient use of shed and pasture space meanwhile putting on the greatest weight for the same amount of feed of any beef breed.

Bulls like this one sire the kind of calves that are a feeder's delight, combining breeding and feeding capacity with easy finishing qualities that make for the highest yield from feedlot or range. The polled factor is so dominant that bulls used on horned cows produce offspring that are usually 90 per cent hornless.

MAXWALTON RESEMBLANCE is thick and blocky, from an excellent cow—an 86th Rosewood. His sire is one of the best known bulls of the breed.

ALAUNA ARCHER

Like all the calves by Alauna Lord Collynie x, this bull has much natural fleshing and is mellow. His full sister, Augusta Alauna 3d, was second in class to the 1946 Congress champion and sold with her two half brothers for an average of $1,237 per head. He was a member of the winning Pair of Bulls, Pair of Calves and Get of Sire at the 1946 Iowa State Fair—he stood second to the champion in class.

MAXWALTON REAL MEASURE—A beautiful red, thick bull of show calibre from the 86th branch of Rosewoods. Very much like his sire whose get have topped many sales.

Grand Champion Steer Over All Breeds

No steer can walk out of a feedlot after a given length of time carrying more weight than a Polled Shorthorn. The profit in all kinds of livestock will be found in making the most weight at the lowest feed cost, and the Polled Shorthorn will make better returns for farm roughage and so-called waste than any other breed.

This Polled Shorthorn steer was grand champion over all breeds at the 1946 Livingston County 4-H Show at Pontiac, Ill., in competition with 77 head of all breeds. He is shown with his owner and exhibitor, William Worthington of Pontiac. The calf was sired by Joffre Masterstroke 2d x and bred by A. H. Goehner of Seward, Nebr., breeder and former owner of the sire. There will be bulls in this sale that will produce the kind of calves with the ability to go right to the top in the big steer shows of the nation.

Yearly Sales Up 23%

The wide and fertile field for intelligent and profitable activity offered to the breeder of purebred Polled Shorthorns, attracts more and more breeders into the business each year. To date in 1946 transfers of purebred Polled Shorthorns show a 23 per cent increase over the same period last year and 167 per cent increase over 1940. Registrations of calves during the same period show a 13 per cent increase over the corresponding period a year ago, and 108 per cent over 1940. Memberships are up 10 per cent. Six years ago the number of animals transferred for the number recorded was 60 per cent. This year transfers are 75 per cent of the number recorded, thus demonstrating how the demand for Polled Shorthorns has gained more and more momentum.

Investing in a good workable herd of Polled Shorthorns is an unequalled medium for profitable investment, satisfying personal contacts, and has brought security, success, prestige, and happiness to those who have made it their main source of livelihood.

FOUNTAIN BUTTERFLY—Here is a very thick lowset heifer with an almost ideal head. Collynie Defender is siring a very large percentage of his calves that way. The dam of this heifer is a thick, lowset daughter of Fascinator, one of the best that bull has sired. The white marks on this heifer consist of one small white spot on her side and a small white star in her forehead.

Since Polled Shorthorns were developed and improved in America, this is their original source of supply. This foreign trade combined with an ever-increasing demand at home, creates a ready market for the good surplus animals of every Polled Shorthorn breeder. BUY TOP POLLED SHORTHORNS IN THIS SALE and help us meet this ever-increasing demand.
